Active shooter incidents and their response pose several unique concerns for all facets of public safety including public safety communications. There are a multitude of issues that make responding to an active shooter incident more difficult than other armed subject calls or violent in-progress incidents.

This course helps to educate telecommunicators about the many intricate issues and challenges posed by active shooter incidents and their response and the role the telecommunicator plays in each.

Topics include:

- Phases of an Active Shooter Incident
- Active Shooter Incidents vs. School Shootings
- Law Enforcement, Fire Service and EMS Roles in Active Shooter Incidents
- Response and Secondary Dangers
- The Role of the Telecommunicator in an Active Shooter Incident
- Interaction with the Media
- Dealing with the Aftermath of an Active Shooter Incident
